

NATIONAL SPECIAL AID SOCIETY HAS D. C. BRANCH

Purpose Is to Mobilize Women of Country for Services, and, if Needed, for Wider Fields.

A branch of the National Special Aid Society, organized in New York two years ago, has been established in this city with headquarters in the Munsey building. The society was organized in January, 1915, to mobilize women of the country for service to the country, and, when occasion arises, in the wider needs of humanity. The society, which is a permanent, non-partisan, patriotic body, has organized chapters in various states, which are centers of local activity. These chapters are expected to stimulate Americanism in such different forms of work and study as shall carry out the aims of the organization, co-operating with the help to co-ordinate existing workers and agencies.

One of the principal objects of the society is to raise funds for training aviators for an aerial coast defense patrol. All of the chapters are taking an active interest in the line of work. Other activities of the organization include rolling surgical dressings, knitting sweaters, gloves, mufflers for sailors; gardening in all of its branches; home economics lectures; patriotic lectures; automobile instruction classes; wireless and signaling classes; encouraging enlistments for the Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

Service pledges have been sent throughout the country. In this pledge is listed a number of activities in which women can render service. This includes agriculture, clerical service, manufacturing and mechanical, personal and domestic service, professional service, public service, transportation, trade and contribution.

Chapters Have Same Activities.

Chapters have the same activities and mobilize their members by the pledges. For example, in case of explosion or accident at a New Jersey chapter has fifty beds ready in private houses for occupancy at a half an hour's notice and nurses to attend the injured patients.

The commissary committee is ready to see that soldiers are properly cared for while going through a town, and it is ready to supply canned meat and beans to be taken on the road. It has classes in diet cooking held in the high school buildings, in home economics and first aid.

The organization has already accomplished a great deal of work. It has sent hospital supplies and clothing to Belgium, Russia, Poland, Serbia, the Caucasus, Mesopotamia, Montenegro, France, Italy and Greece. In New York when the army of the United States has been employed in making garments, and have supported themselves by this work. Carloads of grain and clothing also have been sent to Mexico.

Hospital for Aviation Camp.

A small base hospital has been fitted up at aviation camp at Bay Shore, L. I. The society is also working to present technical books to aviation camps.

Four automobiles have been donated by the organization to the military service. Maj. Gen. George Barnett, commandant of the Marine Corps, sent a letter of thanks to the society's headquarters in New York, for the machine that was presented to the Marine Corps. These automobiles are being used for recruiting purposes.

William Alexander is president and Mrs. Charles Frederick Hoffman is vice president of the organization. Mrs. Elliot Butler Wilkins of the board of directors, who also has direct charge of the chapters and is chairman of the patriotic committee has come to Washington to see how the work of the Washington branch is getting along.

TWO ARE INDICTED FOR DRAFT LAW VIOLATIONS

Louis Kramer and C. F. Phillips Give Heavy Bail at New York. Latter Changes Tactics.

NEW YORK, June 7.—First federal indictments for violation of the selective draft law were returned yesterday against Louis Kramer, self-styled "citizen of the world," and Charles Phillips, a student at the University of the City of New York. They were indicted for conspiracy to obstruct the draft law.

Phillips made his backdown when he appeared before Federal Judge Mayer. Just before he was turned into court he tearfully pleaded with him to change his course.

Reading from a prepared statement, Phillips declared that his failure to register was not due to a cowardly effort to evade the law, but was in the interest of peace. He said he would reserve the right to question the constitutionality of the selective draft law.

The court announced that sentence would be deferred until after next Monday, when Phillips will be tried on a previous charge of conspiring with two Columbia students to distribute anti-American printed matter.

The contention of pacifists and slackers that the draft law was unconstitutional was declared to be "perfectly absurd" by Judge Mayer.

Judge Mayer overruled a demurrer entered in behalf of Louis Kramer, self-styled "citizen of the world," who, after being indicted several days ago, had several others for an anti-conscription conspiracy, refused to register.

GOLD EXPORTS INCREASE DURING MONTH OF MAY

The tide of gold which brought between $1,500,000 and $1,600,000 to this country within the past thirty months apparently has turned. The United States exported $22,717,771 of gold in May, more than it imported, and the total stock in this country today is probably $40,000,000 less than it was a year ago.

Imports of gold ceased altogether about the middle of May. Exports, showing the turning of the tide, for June and July will be at the rate, of $20,000,000, or approximately one-third of the total gold supply of the world.

FOR PHARMACEUTICAL CORPS.

Philadelphia Petition for One in the Army.

The Philadelphia Drug Exchange has petitioned the Secretary of War to establish a pharmaceutical corps in the army, the members of which should be commissioned in grades similar to those now held by members of the medical, dental and veterinary services. It is stated that 150,000 pharmacists in the United States are interested in this movement for professional recognition in the military service.

Under the present system pharmacists are enlisted as privates and non-commissioned officers, with the result, it is stated, that the army is deprived of the assistance of large numbers of pharmacists who might supplement the medical corps as field and hospital attendants. It is stated that all the great foreign countries, except Great Britain and Russia, have pharmaceutical corps in their armies.

BRITISH VOICE ANXIETY OVER CONGRESS DELAYS

Food Situation Again Comes to Fore. Allies Place Reliance Upon This Country.

LONDON, June 7.—In the house of commons, in reply to a question on the food situation, Capt. Charles Balfour, parliamentary secretary to the food-control department, said it was not in the public interest to give any information regarding food supplies, but it was of the greatest importance to the success of the allies' cause that the food situation in America should be on the highest possible scale for the remainder of the war.

Capt. Balfour's statement is somewhat disquieting to the public and press. The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial on the subject, says: "There is more in it than meets the eye, and proceeds to refer to the delay in the execution by the Washington administration of the food plans, owing to the disagreement in Congress. 'It is not for us,' says the paper, 'to criticize the course of American legislation, but in this case we may be pardoned for feeling considerable anxiety at delays which, if extended further, might entail most serious consequences for the allied countries.'"

The Daily News, after remarking that the whole situation with respect to the production of food in Great Britain is thoroughly unsatisfactory and likely to remain so as long as men continue to be drawn from agriculture for the army, says: "We are looking to the American continent, north and south, for vital supplies for ourselves and our allies. We have them all along and may hope to have them in the future on a more organized system. Confidence in the ability of the United States to handle the food problem with expedition and success is well confirmed by the perfect smoothness and ease with which the military registration was effected. It is a fine exhibition of voluntary discipline and devotion and will produce a deep impression in Europe. We do not doubt that when the food department gets to work it will display equal efficiency."

DECLARES THE CHARGES GROSSLY EXAGGERATED

Report Also Calls Much Untrue in Allegations as to Treatment of Sick Sailors.

The official report on the investigation into charges of improper treatment of sick sailors aboard the hospital ship Solace declares the charges to be grossly exaggerated and much untrue. After interviewing more than 100 men who were aboard the ship during the period covered by the complaint, the commission, composed of Dr. William H. Welch, Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. Abraham Flexner, and Nathan Strauss of New York, reported that:

"The general testimony is to the effect that they received what they wanted, needed and asked for. There was, in our judgment, no lack of kindness and intelligent care on the part of Dr. Blackwood (commanding the Solace) and his assistants. They were dealing throughout the month of May with an unprecedented emergency, and in handling it they acquitted themselves admirably."

The report asserted that the medical personnel in charge of the fleet's naval hospital "are all entitled to the highest praise for their devoted and untiring efforts and for the success which they achieved under extremely difficult conditions."

In making the report public Secretary Daniels issued a statement declaring that "not only do the findings of these three famous health experts clear the navy of a 'gameful' attack, but they should carry a message of reassurance to the parents of the nation." He said the charges "first received publicity through Senator Calder, and then, in country-wide circulation, are shown to have no other base than malice and falsehood."
